TESTIMONIALS

"Hazim is a joy to work with and his creative energy and thoughtful design goes beyond aesthetics. One of the things I appreciate the most about Hazim - in addition to his professional demeanor and commitment to collaboration, is that he utilizes his formal education of chemical engineering to enhance his creative designs. His work is both beautiful and grounded in strategic, structured frameworks. He listens and studies the needs of his clients and consistently delivers astounding results."

-Michelle D'Antoni, PR, Marketing & Communications Strategist

Hazim has the ability to listen to your ideas and help transform them into reality. His attention to the spoken and unspoken desires of his clients sets him apart from other designers I have collaborated with. Hazim has a method to building understanding of your needs, developing conceptual options, takes feedback in stride and produces a final product that captures all the objectives. I appreciate his honest and critical perspectives and his willingness to take risks with new ideas. In my experience, I have not worked with a better designer who values input, collaborates seamlessly and produces top-quality materials.

-Lucy Okumu, Strategic Communications professional

Hazim Alradadi was hired as a junior graphic designer whose primary training was as an engineer. We were intrigued by his potential to bring scientific insight and intelligence to our design world as the Kingdom's premier graduate research university. His extraordinary success at achieving this, and so much more, is attested to amply by the fact that I promoted him to Senior Graphic Designer - he is the new face of the Kingdom, blending a cutting edge modern sensibility with a deep awareness and respect for the richness of regional historical tradition, artistic & cultural. His work effortlessly taps the imaginations and tastes of our diverse and international market, our stakeholders, and our leadership, and we are the richer for it. I recommend him unconditionally and will follow his career with interest and enthusiasm.
